EARLY ENROLLMENT BREAKS ALL RECORDS

Expect Final Figures to Surpass
by Several Hundred Total for Last Year

INCREASE ENCOURAGING

Latest Reports Show Gains In All Departments Except Law and Pharmacy

Surpassing all previous records in the history of the University, early season registration yesterday had reached the unprecedented total of 4,273 for the entire University, as compared with 3,946 for the same date one year ago. Enrollment last year had surpassed all former figures, and considering all circumstances the present year will be even greater.

Figures compiled by the Registrar's Office yesterday show a total enrollment in Columbian College of 2,066 to date, which is only about 500 below the total registration for the year last year. On October 8 last year the records show 1,879 enrolled.

This year 224 students have already registered in the School of Graduate Studies for advance degrees, as compared with only 196 at this time last October. The Engineering College, with a total registration to date of 473, shows an increase of 48 over last year, which is almost equal to the gross registration of last year.

Registration in Teacher's College has also far surpassed the record of last October, yesterday's figures showing a total of 417 prospective teachers to date as compared with 330 on October 8 last year. The gross enrollment in Teacher's College for the year just past was 468.

The Medical School has found it impossible to receive all applicants for admission, and have had to turn down a large number of qualified students because of lack of room. Last year it was decided to admit only seventy-five students to the Freshman class, but when further admission was finally denied there were eighty-three first year students. The Medical School enrollment is 257, as compared with a total of 237 for the past year. The Medical School is unable to accommodate more, but after completion of Corcoran Hall the chemistry students in arts and sciences will not be required to use the Medical School laboratories.

The Law School and School of Pharmacy are still slightly below early October enrollment of last year. On October 8 last year the Law School entrants numbered 854, while yesterday's figures show only 811 lawyers. The decreased enrollment is probably due in part to the increased requirements put into effect in the Law School during the past year, but the quality of work turned out will more than compensate for the slight loss in registration.

The School of Pharmacy still has seven to go to reach the gross enrollment of last year. Twenty-five entrants have been reported to date as compared with thirty-two for last year.

The requirements in all departments of the University have been made far more stringent during the past year and the continued increase in enrollment is most gratifying to the officials of the school.

"HOW TO STUDY" THEME AT MONDAY'S ASSEMBLY

"How to Study" was the subject discussed by President William Mather Lewis at the assembly held in Corcoran Hall Monday noon.

"There are two main aims in study," said President Lewis. The first is to acquire certain bodies of knowledge and the second is to acquire certain abilities to do things. The major emphasis, undoubtedly, lies on the side of developing our abilities. College education should increase our powers and capacities, our abilities to work and to play, to vote and to manage men, to organize a business or plead a case or cure disease."

President Lewis pointed out five main motives which are necessary to study successfully: 1. The driving motive, an intense desire to learn, a will to do and not merely to get by; 2. Concentration; 3. System and regularity in study; 4. Effective reading; 5. Attention to teaching methods;

JOINT MASONIC SMOKER PROVES BIG SUCCESS

More than one hundred Masons of George Washington University attended the Masonic Mixer, given by the Masonic Club, Acacia Fraternity, Square and Compass and Sigma Mu Sigma at the Acacia Fraternity House, 1719 I Street northwest, last Friday evening.

The purpose of the mixer was to get the Masons of the University better acquainted, and to take a more active part in the activities of the University.

President Lewis and several members of the faculty, including Professors Croissant, Arnold, Lapham, Evans, Erwin and Platt, were present.

Professor Croissant, master of ceremonies for the evening, gave many interesting facts concerning the Masonic educational program, at the conclusion of which he presented the speaker of the evening, President Lewis.

President Lewis gave an inspiring talk, stressing specifically "The Spirit of Loyalty." The Harmonious Quartet closed the program of the evening.

UNIVERSITY PRESENTED WITH ARCHITECT GIFT

Valuable Collection of Pictures and Plates Gift From Widow of Noted Architect

One of the largest and best collections of architectural drawings and photographs ever assembled was recently presented to the department of architecture of George Washington University by Mrs. D. N. B. Sturgis, of New York, widow of the late Russell Sturgis. The comprehensive collection, worth thousands of dollars, of mounted and unmounted pictures and plates, will be catalogued and placed in the circulating library of the architectural department of the University.

The late Russell Sturgis is said to have been gifted in the subject, and is believed to have been one of the world's leading authorities on architecture. Although he did considerable work along this line, he was essentially an author, and is best known for his writings on the subject. His best work, The History of Architecture, is the largest and most complete work available on architecture. He also wrote The Dictionary of Architecture and many other books. During his lifetime Russell Sturgis wrote for practically all the large architectural periodicals.

The collection presented by Mrs. Sturgis consists of thousands of photographs and plates from which Russell Sturgis secured the data for his work on The History of Architecture. It is reported to be one of the largest and most carefully selected groups of its kind.

THREE G. W. GRADUATES ON FACULTY COMMITTEE

Three of the seven members on the Faculty Committee on Student Activities are graduates of George Washington, two of them having graduated with distinction. William C. Van Vleck, Dean of the Law School, received his A. B. in 1908, with distinction, and three years later was awarded his Bachelor of Laws, with distinction. During the time he was a student in the University Dean Van Vleck took an active interest in student activities and during his Junior year in the Law School was editor of the Cherry Tree.

Dr. Daniel Borden, of the Medical School, also a member of the Faculty Committee, graduated from the Medical School in 1912 with distinction. Dean Anna L. Rose, Dean of Women, received her A. B. in 1912, and last June was awarded a Master of Arts degree. She is vice-chairman of the Athletics Council, in charge of girls athletic activities.

Trustees to Meet

The Board of Trustees of George Washington University will hold its first meeting of the year on Wednesday, October 8, at 4:30 o'clock.

The meeting will take place in the new Council Room on the first floor of Corcoran Hall. This room, which will be used exclusively for board and council meetings, is attractively decorated in colonial style. It meets a need which has been felt for some years past.

FIRST COMPLETED UNIT IN THE GREATER G. W.

HATCHET MEETING

A meeting of the Hatchet Staff will be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Hatchet Office to outline the policies of the Hatchet for the coming year and to complete the organization of the staff. Students interested in work on either the business or publication staff are requested to be present.

The new Hatchet Office is located on the first floor in the rear of building No. 3, and accessible only through the rear entrance.

FRATERNITY COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Plans to Complete Interfraternity Baseball Schedule Not Played
Last Spring

Delegates from the various fraternities laid aside thoughts of the world series Sunday morning and met at 11 a. m. at the Sigma Phi Epsilon house at 1810 Connecticut Avenue for the first Interfraternity Association meeting of the school year.

President "Babe" Fly started the meeting off by telling the delegates of President Lewis' wishes regarding fraternities. All present agreed that they wished to cooperate fully with President Lewis in every way possible to maintain high standards for the University and the fraternities connected with it.

Officers of the Association elected for this year are Graham Fly, president; John B. Wright, vice-president and treasurer, and A. J. Hilland, secretary.

Last year's interfraternity baseball championship has not yet been determined. The winners in the two leagues were unable to finish the schedule last spring. At the meeting Sunday it was decided that Kappa Sigma and Sigma Phi Epsilon should play the deciding game at an early date.

The loving cup which is to be awarded to the winner by the Association will be presented at the annual interfraternity smoker which will be held this fall. At the same time Sigma Alpha Epsilon will be awarded the trophy for winning the interfraternity relay race last spring.

The Interfraternity Association will hold their next meeting at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house at 3320 Sixteenth Street on Sunday, October 19, at 11 a. m.

JUNIORS ELECT OFFICERS

Officers for the coming year were elected Friday, September 26, by the Junior Class of the Medical School, and plans made for another active season.

The new officers chosen are Frank Gantz, president; Aleatha Anderson vice-president; James McNeill, secretary and William Meiman, treasurer.

Players to Meet

The G. W. Players will meet tomorrow in the Chapel to outline the work of the Players for the coming school year and also to adopt a new constitution.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED FOR STUDY OF FRENCH

"Le Cercle Gallia" Has As Object
the Aid and Advancement of French Students

"Le Cercle Gallia," established at George Washington University by a group of professors and students during April, 1924, held its first meeting of this school year in the rooms of the Phi Mu Sorority, Building 8 of the University, Friday evening, October 3, 1924.

This is a French club, as the name suggests, and has as its purpose the gathering together of students who are studying French, and such French students as are in attendance in the University.

The organization of the society, as perfected during the summer under the president, Professor Beneteau, consists of two committees: the first, a committee of honor, composed of Dean Henning and Dean Wilbur, of George Washington University, and Monsieur de Laboulaye and General Dumont, highest officials of the French Embassy here; and a second committee, the executive committee, composed of Professor Beneteau, as president; Commandant Giron, of the French Embassy, as president treasurer, two secretaries, two librarians; and one typist.

At the end of the school year last June there were thirty members holding regular meetings, which included a reception to Dean Henning, two conferences in French, a pique party and a soiree musicale. During the summer those of the society who stayed in Washington gathered on Friday evenings at the home of Madame Beneteau.

Plans for the coming year include a masquerade ball to be held at the end of October, lectures and perhaps a French play. At other times the circle will be a "salon on l'on cause francais."

Membership is limited to those who speak French or are studying it at the University.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED BY SOPHOMORE CLASS

George Von Dachenhausen was elected president of the Sophomore Class of Columbian College at a meeting held Monday evening, September 30. Jeanne Gravatte was elected vice-president; Earl Nall, secretary; Colin E. McRae, treasurer, and Betty Armentrout, sergeant-at-arms.

The meeting was attended by only a small number, and students in the Sophomore Class contend that no notice of the meeting was given. They are also inquiring who gave authorizations for the sale of Freshmen caps and the printing of Vigilance Committee proclamations.

FROSH MEET THURSDAY

A meeting of the Freshmen class of Columbian College has been called for Thursday evening to elect officers for the coming year. The meeting will be held promptly at 8 o'clock, in room 12, Building No. 5.

This election promises to be interesting and all Freshmen are asked to come help elect their officers and plan for a Freshmen mixer.

FIRST CLASSES MEET IN CORCORAN HALL

Old Concordian Church Deserted for Quarters in New University Building

ROOM FOR 100 CLASSES

First Unit in the Greater G. W.
Inspires Students of All Classes

Classes have been moved into Corcoran Hall and the basement of Concordian Church no longer serves as a refuge for Dean Wilbur's Freshmen English congregations and Professor Kern's economic gatherings. As they go to their classes in the new building George Washington students find something that has for years been only a dream, a real university building with real class rooms, clean and new.

Professor Bolwell's English class has the distinction of being the first class to meet in the new building, having held their first session there last Saturday. Yesterday morning all classes met in their new quarters with the exception of chemistry and laboratory classes.

Besides the large assembly room on the first floor class rooms have been equipped on the first, second and third floors, while the fourth floor is devoted to laboratories. The classes meeting in Corcoran Hall besides Dean Wilbur's English and Professor Kern's economics, include political science courses, several economics, English and math. courses, as well as a large number of modern language classes, teachers' college courses, philosophy and psychology.

The new building accommodates approximately one hundred of the regular classes. The entire fourth floor has been devoted to laboratories, which when they are completed will be the best equipped school laboratories in the city. The laboratories will be completed within the next few days, and will relieve the congestion in the Medical School.

BIG MEETING THURSDAY TO PLAN ROLL CALL

Class Officers and Representatives of Organizations to Meet In Corcoran Hall

Presidents and secretaries of all classes in all departments of the University together with representatives from all organizations in school, will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the assembly room of Corcoran Hall to complete arrangements for the second annual Roll Call.

In calling this meeting President Lewis is endeavoring to make the Roll Call even more successful than last year. He has asked that all class officers attend, and is also asking that all fraternities, sororities, honor societies and other student organizations send an official representative to the meeting.

The Roll Call this year, instead of being held on the Monument grounds, will be held on the University campus. If by any misfortune the weather should be unfavorable the gathering will be held in Corcoran Hall.

GLEE CLUB MEETING CALLED FOR OCT. 16

The Men's Glee Club of the University will start the new year with a big "get together" and tryouts Thursday, October 16, in Corcoran Hall at 8 p. m. sharp. The school has succeeded in obtaining the services of Edgar Priest of the National Cathedral as director and everything points to a most successful year.

Every man registered in the University is invited to attend the meeting and try for the Glee Club. Tryouts will be scheduled this week and next, after which the club will settle down to training for some early concerts.

Students who are interested but unable to attend the first meeting should send their name, part, and experience to F. O. Klaff, secretary, 1123 Euclid Street northwest, or sign under one of the posters to be found on the bulletin boards.

WASHINGTON, D. C., OCTOBER 7, 1924

TEAM WILL WIN

The best of teams must sometimes lose, and the fact that a George Washington football team has been defeated by a single touchdown in a closely contested game will never bring discouragement to the team and should not bring criticism from the students. Every team cannot win, and the team that can play a good clean game and keep up their fighting spirit in the face of almost certain defeat is more to be admired than a team that has never learned the value of sportsmanship.

Actual defeat is often a victory in the end, and although a team plays a losing game the players learn more and are better equipped to meet the next rival. The loss of a game last Saturday has not brought discouragement to the team, but has made them more determined than ever to add another victory when they meet Western Maryland here next Saturday.

All the Hatchette eleven needs next Saturday is an enthusiastic body of rooters. There is room at the game for everybody and every student should feel it a duty to give every bit of support possible to his team. Even teams like the Washington championship baseball team must sometimes lose, but they are always game losers. If we must lose we can all be good losers—but this time we are going to win.

STILL GROWING

The recent organization of a men's swimming team in George Washington shows that there is still some fields of activity yet unexplored by the student body, and this new addition to the university activities does not exhaust the entire field of athletic sports. With a student body of over five thousand students we should have fencing teams for both men and women, lacrosse teams, a university band and a university baseball team and a humorous magazine.

Interest in student activities has been developing rapidly the past few years and there is no doubt that George Washington will some day be able to maintain an athletic standing among the colleges and universities of the country which will be a credit to any institution. Strong teams cannot be developed overnight, but untiring, faithful efforts will bring their reward.

A UNIVERSITY

The completion of the first unit in George Washington's building program is only the beginning of a university plant which will ultimately be the largest and most important educational institution of its kind in the country. Every student in George Washington for the past hundred years has had a vision of a university of which he could be proud, and at last that vision is becoming material.

But as Dr. Lewis says, buildings do not make a university. Every student in a university is an integral part of that institution and as he lives after he has gone out into life so will the outer world know his university.

When we enter an institution we unite our interests with the thousands who have gone before and the thousands who will come after. In our daily conduct we have not only ourselves to consider, our fellow students, the faculty and our University.

As a man is judged so is his university judged. If we bring honor to ourselves we bring honor and glory to our school. If we bring disgrace upon ourselves we bring disgrace upon our school and mar the good name of those thousands who claim George Washington as their Alma Mater.

THE CURB STONE OBSERVER

If as many of the students have as good a time in Harry Wardman's new building (Corcoran Hall) as they have had in his HO-tel—well ask Misty Handcock about the details.

From the results seen in several recent school elections G. W. U. politicians could elect almost any candidate. Why not give the Progressives a lift?

Evidently some of the Chi O's don't know that some of the school elections are run on the day-light-saving-time.

Speaking of keen things on the Campus Concretus our Betty B is being rather admiringly conspicuous in spite of the beautiful collection of Freshmen.

Our students seem to age well—even some of the Alumni can't keep away. Dave Strother, usually known as an epicurean has been seen frequently—frequently admiring the Freshmen also.

It looks like they are building the new buildings so that some of the new students won't get tired of being in the same room year after year as some of the older students were.

Popular line across the Iron Fence: 1st egg: How many hours ye takin'.

2nd broke: Registered for 19 this semester but the Dean says my mental. I mean my physical condition wouldn't stand it and would let me take only six.

After registering I wouldn't wonder that some of the scalpers and professional line holders at the world series are university students.

With the opening of Corcoran Hall, and say—its great, the "secondary importance" is surely coming to the fore. We're strong for the secondary importance when it takes such tangible form as Corcoran Hall.

More than one game almost lost has been won because the team losing knew its school was behind it—because all those that went to make up that school were cheering it on—all the time.

Coach Crum says: "Student support is 75 percent of victory." To us this seems a little high but we are all agreed that it represents too big a factor in the equation to be overlooked.

G. W. U. can and will be just as well thought of as you and I make it. We are always receiving bouquets on our scholastic standing—lets get ready to gather in a few on our athletic standing by going to every home game our team plays—and letting them know that we're there.

There's a whole lot in that one about the square peg in a round hole. Maybe YOU haven't found just the "hole" that you'll fit in the best—the best for yourself and for the University. Scratch around—it's there.

Organized cheering is a great thing—BUT—the power and value of "Talking to the TEAM" is even greater.

I don't and you shouldn't mind being as hoarse as a crow if G. W. has won.

It's a mark of distinction to be hoarse from cheering a G. W. team on to victory.

Rho Chapter of the Phi Lambda Kappa Fraternity held its opening dance and reception at the Hotel Lafayette last Saturday evening, October 4. Among those present were several members of the faculty and visitors from many chapters of the fraternity in the east. Rho Chapter was also honored by the attendance of representatives of Phi Delta Epsilon, Phi Chi, Alpha Kappa Kappa, and Lambda Phi Mu fraternities. The affair was a success, and greatly enjoyed by those in attendance.

The Phi Chi's held their first smoker of the new school year on Friday, September 26, at their new house at 1326 Vermont Avenue. All of the brothers were in attendance, with members of the Freshman Class as guests.

Alumni members, Dr. Jenkins, Dr. Roe, Dr. Boyee, Dr. Ellerson, Dr. Mallory and Major Jones who were also present, gave interesting talks which were greatly appreciated.

Subscription dance given last Friday evening at the Chevy Chase Library by the Gamma Delta Rho sorority was well attended by members and friends of the organization. A four-piece orchestra furnished music and punch was served throughout the evening.

An informal dance was given last Tuesday evening by the Sigma Chi fraternity at their chapter house on N Street. This was the second informal dance of the season given by the Sigs, and was well attended by members and friends of the fraternity.

Irma Baulser attended the opening hops at the University of Pennsylvania while spending the week-end at Philadelphia.

A miscellaneous shower was given Monday evening, September 29, by Chi Omega women's fraternity in honor of Beatrice Henning, an alumnae of George Washington, whose marriage to George Shaw will take place on October 16. Miss Henning was also the honor guest of a shower given by Miss Virginia Diedel on Wednesday.

Sigma Nu Fraternity gave their second informal dance of the season last Thursday evening at the chapter house. Friends of the fraternity report an unusually good time.

A pleasant evening is reported by friends and members of Theta Upsilon Omega Fraternity who attended an informal dance given at the Theta U house last Thursday evening.

If the first can be used as any criterion, the bi-monthly teas planned by Dean Anna L. Rose for the women of the University will be even more successful than last year. The first of her series of teas was held last Wednesday by Dean Rose, and was the means of getting a large number of the girls together. Dean Rose was assisted by members of the Y. W. C. A.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity entertained with a formal dance at their chapter house last Saturday night. Everyone reports a most pleasant evening.

Phi Sigma Kappa Fraternity gave their second informal dance of the season at their chapter house last Saturday evening.

Among the many social affairs of the first week of school was an informal dance given last Wednesday evening by Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity at the chapter house on Connecticut Avenue.

To YOU who work during the day we say that when you don't take your leave to see G. W.'s team do its stuff you're missing a mighty good investment and to YOU who attend school only—well, you've no excuse at all for not going to all home games.

ACTIVITIES COUPONS READY FOR STUDENTS

Students who have paid the first installment of their activities fee may now secure coupon books from the Cashier's office of Columbian College and the offices of the various schools.

For those students paying the $8 fee a coupon book has been provided containing tickets or coupons for admission to all games and other activities to which they are entitled. Those paying the $3 fee will be provided with a ticket which will give them admission to certain activities furnished to part-time students.

These tickets and coupon books are available now and should be procured before the game Saturday.

DEAN MILLER A THETA U.

Dean Hugh E. Miller, Dean of the Engineering School of George Washington University, became a faculty member of the Eta Alpha Chapter of Theta Upsilon Omega at the spring initiation of that fraternity, June 1. Dean Miller is a graduate of Princeton University. He served during the late war as a captain in the Engineers, United States Army. Since that time he has served as the head of the Engineering Department of the University. He is also the coach of tennis.

"PEP" RALLY FRIDAY FOR MARYLAND GAME

Big Meeting in Corcoran Hall to Organize Cheering Squad for Saturday Game

A rousing "Pep" rally will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the assembly room of Corcoran Hall, according to Manager Stewart.

"Pep" Balter, former G. W. cheerleader, will take charge of the cheering at the Western Maryland game Saturday, and he has promised to instill some real spirit in the meeting Friday night.

President Lewis, Coach Crum and others will also be on hand at the meeting.

According to present plans the cheering section will attend the Saturday game en masse. Freshmen will not be permitted to attend the game unless they wear their green caps, and all the lowly Frosh will sit in the front rows of the section reserved for University students.

Some interesting new features are being planned for the Saturday game and all those who fail to attend will miss something good.

HATCHETITE ELEVEN LOSES TO JUNIATA

Loehler's Fumble Costly to Team Leaving Way Clear for Blue and Gold Victory

G. W. DEFENSE STRONG

Home Team Played Well But Unable to Score; Many Substitutes Used

Juniata defeated Coach Crum's gridiron warriors last Saturday in a closely contested game when Loehler fumbled on the Hatchetite's 45-yard line in the second quarter and Daly, Juniata fullback, got away for the only touchdown of the game. The score was 7 to 0.

George Washington worked the best during the first quarter, making two first down to none for Juniata. However, the blue and gold began to gain momentum, and outplayed the Hatchetites from the beginning of the second quarter, making four first downs. Forward passes accounted for two of these, and were the strongest factors in Juniata's offense.

Coach Crum used many substitutes at the beginning of the second half, but Juniata's offense could not be stopped and the Hatchetite eleven were forced to play on their own end of the field. Once when they were within the shadow of their own goal posts George Washington stiffened and held for downs. Then they marched up the field for three first downs in a row, only to lose the ball on a fumble which won the game for Juniata.

In an exchange of punts Lamar fumbled, but one of the Hatchetites recovered the ball on their own ten yard line. On the next play Beck intercepted a pass, but Coach Crum's eleven held firm and Juniata lost on downs. On George Washington's first play Schlosser intercepted a long pass on Juniata's own thirty yard line and carried it to within five yards of the goal.

Last year George Washington defeated Juniata 14 to 7. The line-up:

| G. Wash. | Position | Juniata |
|----------|----------|-----------|
| Malone | L. E. | M. Snider |
| Wemple | L. T. | Giles |
| Hottel | L. G. | Stroup |
| Wagner | Center | Stein |
| Loeb | R. T. | Grove |
| Fletcher | R. G. | Beck |
| Logan | R. E. | Pentz |
| Levy | L. H. | H. Snider |
| Long | R. H. | Schlosser |
| Lamar | Q. B. | West |
| Loehler | F. B. | Daly |

Referee—Saul Otterbein. Umpire—Houtz, Gettysburg. Linesman—Meloy, Juniata. Substitutions—Trout for H. Snider, Hittle for Giles, H. Snider for Trout. Zollars for Logan, Hottel for Haines, Kenney for Levy, Malone for Kenney. Time, thirteen-minute quarters. Touchdown—Daley. Goal from touchdown—West.

HATCHETITES TO PLAY WESTERN MARYLAND

Only Three More Home Games Listed on Schedule for Football Season

The Hatchetite squad is being put through a week of strenuous training in preparation for the game here next Saturday with Western Maryland at the Central High School Stadium. The men have been doing exceptionally fine work lately, and Coach Crum is confident of a decisive victory over the Marylanders.

Western Maryland is reported to have a strong eleven this season and from all indications a good game is in store for George Washington football enthusiasts. The line-up will not be selected for Saturday's game until the latter part of the week, but it is probable that most of the men of the squad will be given a chance to work sometime during the game.

George Washington has only three more home games scheduled for the season. On October 25 they play St. Joseph's Academy here, and the Catholic University game will be played here on Thanksgiving Day. A game has been scheduled with Delaware for November 15, but it has not been definitely announced whether the game will be played here or in Newark.

The games scheduled for the remainder of the season are as follows:

Western Maryland, October 11, at home.

Drexel Institute, October 18, at Philadelphia.

St. Joseph's Academy, October 25, at home.

Johns Hopkins, November 1, at Baltimore.

Penn. Military Academy, November 8, Chester, Pa.

Delaware University, November 15, Newark or at home.

Buffalo, New York, November 22, at Buffalo.

Catholic University, November 27, at home.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL HOLDS FIRST MEETING

At the first meeting of the Athletic Council of the University, held last night in the office of Dr. Daniel L. Borden, faculty chairman of the Council, a budget for the year's activities was discussed and general plans of organization outlined.

The meeting was not attended by a full representation from the various athletic organizations and very little was definitely settled.

The Athletic Council was created under the recent order reorganizing student activities, and is composed of Dr. Borden, a member of the faculty, as chairman; Dan Rose as vice chairman in charge of women's athletics; and captains and managers of the various athletic organizations.

The Athletic Council will meet regularly hereafter on the first Tuesday of each month in Dr. Borden's office at the Rochambeau.

FORMER HATCHET EDITOR TO ATTEND OHIO STATE

Robert H. McNeil, editor of the University Hatchet last year and member of the class of '24, departed last Tuesday for Columbus, Ohio, where he will take a year of graduate work in the Ohio State University School of Journalism.

McNeil, besides being editor of the Hatchet, has held many other positions in various lines of student activities. He was manager of football in 1922-23, business manager of the Cherry Tree in 1923-24, and treasurer of the Senior Class of '24. He was a member of Pyramid, Senior Honor Society, of Pi Delta Epsilon, Honorary Journalism fraternity and president of both organizations when he left.

Evening Assemblies Planned

Beginning Monday, October 6, an assembly for afternoon students will be held each Monday at 4:40 o'clock in Corcoran Hall. This will afford part time students an opportunity for gathering together, and is calculated to increase school spirit in the University.

To Address Indiana Teachers

President William Mather Lewis will go to Fort Wayne, Ind., on Friday, where he is to address the North-eastern Indiana Teachers' Association.

MEN'S SWIMMING TEAM ORGANIZED IN G. W. U.

Lyman, Newby, and Other Aquatic Stars in George Washington Start Practice

Nearly a dozen experienced swimmers reported to Coach F. J. Brunner for the first swimming practice held last night at the Racquet Club pool, 1135 Sixteenth Street.

Among the candidates for the men's swimming team this year are several men with brilliant swimming records. Albert Lyman, acting manager, is a former Central High School star and now holds the South Atlantic A. A. U. diving championship. Newby, another Washington high school swimmer, has made a record by his work on the Princeton University team.

Several experienced swimmers from the local high schools are registered in the University, among them are Joe Stanfield, John Parsons, Wells Alexander and Paul Peter, Central High School stars.

Matches with Johns Hopkins, the Naval Academy, Swathmore, Catholic U. and other nearby institutions are being considered.

The chief obstacle in the path of aquatic success, like other athletic activities, is lack of facilities for training. However, this is largely compensated for in Coach Brunner, who is director of the municipal pools, and nationally known because of the brilliant showing his pupils have made in a long series of championship matches.

Practice will be held every Monday and Friday evening at the Racquet Club, and everyone interested in swimming is asked to report either to Coach Brunner or Acting Manager Lyman.

CRUM STARTS SQUAD ON TRAINING TABLE

At last the George Washington squad has started training like a real football team, going to bed early, eating only what the coach approves, and living the life of real athletes.

Arrangements have been made for feeding the men of the squad at a regular training table at the new University cafeteria, successor to the one-time Rabbit Hole.

In placing the football men on regular meals Coach Crum is following the method used by all other schools in developing their athletes.

A smoker will be held Wednesday evening, October 15, at the Sigma Chi House, 1312 N Street northwest, by the Engineering Society. Several prominent speakers have been secured and a pleasant program is promised.

As a football player
he's a good poet

LET'S admit that all men are not born for gridiron honors, just as all men are not born poets.

You can admire a man's grit for plugging away at the thing that comes hardest to him. He does derive benefit in developing himself where he is weakest. But to achieve real success it is only common wisdom to pick out the line for which you have a natural aptitude—and go to it.

Particularly if you are a freshman it may be useful to remind you of this principle, because it can help you start off on the right foot in both your campus activities and your college courses.

If your fingers love the feel of a pencil, why not obey that impulse and come out for the publications? You can serve Alma Mater and yourself better as a first-class editor than a third-class halfback.

Similarly, when it comes to electing your college courses, you will be happier and more efficient if you choose in accordance with your natural aptitude.

The world needs many types of men. Find your line, and your college course will be a preparation for a greater success.

JOHNSON WILL HEAD ENOSINIAN THIS YEAR

Celebration To Be Held on Centennial of Lafayette's Installation in December

Plans for a large celebration to be held on the one hundredth anniversary of the Marquis de Lafayette's initiation into the Enosinian Literary Society were formulated at the first meeting of the season, held in Enosinian Hall, Room 4-29, last night. The anniversary falls next December, when a banquet and ceremonies will probably be held, at which Ambassador Jules Jusserand, of France, will be invited as guest of honor.

At the time Lafayette was installed, the society had been organized for two years, and President Monroe was a member. Later, the poet Bryant, the orator Henry Clay, and two other Presidents of the United States were members.

Sherman Johnson was unanimously elected president for the ensuing year. Lyne Smith was made vice-president; Dorothea Stevens, secretary; and Kermit Girdner, treasurer.

The meeting was opened by a talk by Meador Wright, retiring president of the society, in which he read the two concluding chapters of a short novel by Sherman Johnson. He announced that the Enosinian poetry prize of $10 had been awarded to Courtland D. Baker, a member of the society, for his sequence of sonnets. Baker is well known in the university as a poet and literary man, and was vice-president of the Enosinian during 1923-24. He is at present an instructor in the English Department.

Meetings of the Enosinian will be held during 1924-25 on the first and third Thursdays of each month, the meeting night having been changed from Monday to Thursday to accommodate members of the society.

The next meeting of the society will be October 16.

Papers from persons desiring admission will probably be heard once a month. The requisites for admission to the society are eighteen hours "A" work, and the submission of a paper, creative or critical, to be approved by two-thirds of the members. For "B" membership, the scholarship requirement is not necessary.

The Enosinian Society gained its greatest growth of recent years, two or three years ago, when J. Fuller Spoerri was elected president. Since then it has been steadily gaining in impetus.

Notice

A meeting of the Pyramid Honor Society has been called for 10 o'clock Sunday morning to elect a president to succeed Robert H. McNeil, who recently left for Ohio State University, and to discuss plans for the coming year.

The meeting will be held in the Alumni rooms of the Law School.

SOPH. OFFICERS ELECTED

The Sophomore Class of G. W. Medical School held a class meeting at noon, Friday, October 3, at which time the class was organized and officers elected. E. J. Grass was elected president, A. Finkelstein, vice-president; Edith Petrie, secretary; E. Krauss, treasurer and sergeant-at-arms, "Piggy" Moore.

POLITICS UNDER FIRE AT DEBATE MEETING

Enthusiasm Marks First Meeting of Columbian Debaters; Smith Wins Honors

A full and profitable season was prophesied for the Columbian Debating Society last Friday night when it led off with a successful debate. The subject was "Resolved, That the future alignment of political parties in America should be Conservative and Progressive instead of Democratic and Republican."

The subject, affording wide scope as it did for interesting material, was attacked in ardent fashion by Frank Smith, Peter Chesnut and Meador Wright, who were speaking for the affirmative, and who were declared winners, and Wroe Alderson, Samuel Watson and Sherman Johnson defending the negative.

Lack of preparation caused faulty technique and much confusion, but in spite of this the strong and zealous attitude the speakers took made the subject very interesting.

Frank Smith was awarded first honors in the debate and Samuel Watson received honorable mention.

Officers for the next semester will be elected next Friday at the regular meeting.

COLUMBIAN JUNIORS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The old chapel in Lisner Hall, veteran political battle-grounds, was the scene of an orderly assembly and election of officers of the class of 1926 on Thursday evening, October 3.

Stanley Clark was chosen president, Helen Gregg, vice-president; Dorothy Bartley, secretary; "Whitey" Stout, treasurer, and Murray Flack, sergeant-at-arms.

Francis Clements, president of the class when they were mere sophomores last year, called the meeting to order at 7:30 p. m. The sizable gathering then promptly dispatched the business of the election.

At the close of the meeting those present heartily congratulated the newly elected officers. All agreed that under their capable leadership they would enjoy a prosperous year.

NAVY OFFICIALS DROP RESERVE OFFICERS' UNIT

Plans for the organization of a Naval Reserve Officers Unit at George Washington University have been dropped because of the small number of students registering for the course, according to an announcement given out by Commander H. H. Frost, of the U. S. Navy.

Only six students in the first-year class registered for the proposed course, and the Navy Department does not feel warranted in conducting the course for such a small number of students.

The course as outlined by the Navy Department includes several very difficult courses in advanced mathematics and this is thought to be the principal reason for the few number of entrants.

However, the entire Naval-Reserve Officers' project will not be dropped, according to Commander Frost. The course was installed in St. John's Academy, at Annapolis, at the same time the unit was planned for George Washington. Over twenty students have registered for the course at the Academy, and will therefore be continued in that institution as an experiment. If found to be successful the system will probably be extended to other universities throughout the country.

SERVICE ABROAD CALLS FORMER STAFF MEMBER

Among its many G. W. U. has numbered not a few students claiming the Philippine Islands as their native sod but now it is to be in a position to claim a coming resident of the same Islands as one of its former students. Caroline Eleanor Peterson, C. C. '23, is leaving Washington this week for San Francisco, from which point she will sail for the Philippines on a Government transport.

Miss Peterson will be remembered for her excellent and tireless work for the University on the staffs of its publications and among its organizations. Both the Cherry Tree and the Hatchet will miss her frequent contributions as will the Spanish Club, the Enosinian Society and all the others in which she held membership.

While in the Philippines Miss Peterson will be attached to the personnel of the United States Army Medical Research Board with headquarters at Manila.

SENIOR MEDICS ELECT

Don Johnson, Medical School senior, was elected president of his class for the third consecutive term at a meeting of the class held Friday, September 26. At this meeting the class was formerly organized and officers for the coming year elected. Hartzell Ray was chosen vice-president, Catherine Chapman elected secretary, Lee Cockerville, treasurer and Louis Iadiano, sergeant-at-arms.

LOCAL BODY INSTALLED AS PHI SIGMA SIGMA

Phi Lambda Mu, Local Sorority, Granted Charter by National Organization

Another national sorority was added to the list at George Washington University when Kappa Chapter of Phi Sigma Sigma was installed at the City Club on Saturday, September 20. Kappa Chapter was formerly Phi Lambda Mu, a local organization.

The local body, which is the tenth chapter on the roster of Phi Sigma Sigma Sorority, founded at Hunter College, New York City, in September, 1913, was organized as Phi Lambda Mu in October, 1920, and has continued since that time as a fully recognized organization at the University. The chapters of Phi Sigma Sigma are located at Hunter College, New York University, Adelphi, Buffalo, Boston, Michigan, Illinois, California, Pittsburgh and George Washington.

Twelve members of the national organization, including the national president, visited Washington to install the new chapter. Sightseeing trips were made around the city and to Mount Vernon. The formal installation at the City Club was followed by a banquet.

Phi Sigma Sigma is planning a series of events for the school calendar this year, the first to be an open house, which will be held in about two weeks.

MILLER AT CENTENNIAL

Dean Hugh Miller of the Engineering College represented the faculty of George Washington University at the centennial celebration of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute held last Friday at Troy, N. Y. Mrs. James Carroll Frazer, a member of the University Council and a direct descendant of the founder of the Institute, was one of the principal speakers at the celebration.

GRADUATE TO ASSIST IN CLASSIFICATION

Also Chosen To Assist in Grading Essays for Chemical Society Contest

J. Norman Taylor, B. S. in Chemistry, 1913, M.Sc. 1922, was recently appointed by the American Institute of Chemists as chairman of the Committee on Classification of Government Chemists. At a meeting of the Council of the Institute, held in New York last June, this committee was created for the purpose of "studying the problems confronting the Government Chemists and aiding in the legislation under consideration for their welfare and in the proposed classification."

In a preliminary report to the Institute, which Mr. Taylor has just made, there are set forth a number of grades of chemists, accompanied by tentative descriptions of the duties, responsibilities, and typical tasks of each. According to this report, standards for scientific positions in the Government should be high and the Government should be a model employer, offering the highest rates of pay and the best conditions of service.

Mr. Taylor, also, at the request of the American Chemical Society, assisted in grading essays for the Prize Essay Contest. The awards have now been made by the Society and comprise six four-year scholarships to Yale University consisting of tuition fees and $500 a year in cash.
